H. O. BUDD'S BIG AVERAGE YIELD Came From a Country Where Big Yields are Unknown

On March the 20th this year Harry O. Budd arrived in Gleichen from Beltrami, Minn. and having 200 acres of his farm, located two and one half miles northeast of town, broken last year, he proceeded to put in a crop. This season he also broke another 100 and put in 46 acres of winter wheat.

Mr Budd had heard of the big crops in this district, but of course, he did not expect that he should have one of them the first year and he would be well satisfied if he got half of the yields he had heard his neighbors talking about. The other day a reporter paid a visit to Mr. John Dufee's and that gentleman did not give him time to get into the house before he said: "Let me get into the field and see the road to Mr. Budd's farm, he has one of the best crops I think I have ever seen, taking them all through." And Mr. Dufee is a country where big crops are not known, compared with this country and naturally feel a little uncomfortable in talking about them, so you will excuse me if I do not make any remarks further than just telling you what we have done."

"You can put in about 200 acres of grain, perhaps a little less but about 100 acres of spring wheat and threshed 4,300 bushels. Yes, 43 bushels to the acre was the average, but about 47 acres were put in wheat and the other 60 being not quite so good yielded down to average, I sold the first crop of this wheat at 74 cents per bushel, and am selling it all now at 1.00 and not grainary room for it, but I have it will keep for seed. There were 38 acres of wheat, which yielded 905 bushels, almost 24 bushels to the acre. The flax grade No. 1 and I sold them all at $1.11 per bushel.

The balance of 62 acres were of oats, which yielded an average of 1014 bushels to the acre, and for the first crop of them 274 cents per bushel was paid. Most of the oats, however, are still in the grainary. The straw on these oats was very fine, just about five feet, and we cut them a little early as we feared a storm might come and blow them down and they would be hard to cut. Mr. Dufee says to believe that if we had left them a few days longer the average would have been much higher. "That is right," remarked Mr. Dufee. "I am sure they would have gone 120 in a few days. The straw was something wonderful. Not a few patches but the whole field was the same, and the sheaf showed at our feet was no exception. A man who has gone here into the field with his eye shut and cut just as good a sheaf."

"That's right," said Mr. Budd. "Mother is a little over five feet high, and when she went into the field to have a photo taken we could not see her at all. It took us two weeks steady work to thresh 200

Seed Grain Fair November 20th

Authority has been received from the Government at Edmonton to hold the Gleichen District Agricultural Association's Second Annual Seed Grain Fair on November 20th, and the directors of the association are already busy in making every preparation to make this year's fair an even greater success than last year, and will spare no efforts to that end.

The prize list will be a very liberal one, and will likely range $4, $8 and $12 as first, second and third prizes. Last year some of our farmers carried off as high as $50 in cash prizes, and those who did not take the trouble to compete were very much disappointed with themselves when they learned they could have gained so much for showing two bushels of their grain.

Therefore, it is likely that this year like exhibits will be much more numerous and the competition very keen. The amount of the prize money, however, is only a very small item of the advantages the farmer gains by making the exhibit. His grain is classified by the government judges, and he will almost invariably get a much better price for it than he could expect otherwise, and if it is not fit for seed the judges will give him the reasons thereof, and he can gain against the trouble whatever it may be in future. The farmer has an opportunity of learning how to judge grain and gain much knowledge that will be found useful to him.

When the list is completed it will appear in The Call and full particulars given.

WINTER WHEAT 40 BUSHELS TO ACRE John Buckley Has Another Fine Crop

John C. Buckley, who won the Farm Crop trophy for Gleichen last year against all aspirants for wheat—remember Alberta held the world last year—has another good crop of wheat this year. He drove into town the other day and was in a big hurry to get back to his work when our reporter saw him. "Good crops this year, Mr. Buckley?" asked the reporter. "Fine, fine, sir, better than an ordinary Irishman deserves; thanks to the instructions the neighbors gave me. We just finished threshing the winter wheat when I left home and it yielded within a fraction of 40 bushels to the acre. I must get home now to my work, and will tell you more about my crop when the work is completed." And the happy Irishman whipped up his fine team of horses.

NAMAKA NEWS

H. W. Baker, who arrived from Golden, B. C. last week, purchased a couple of lots on which he will proceed with the erection of a large boarding house to contain not less than twelve beds. He is gaining much interest for his place, and should do a good business from the start.

John McNair has arrived to take charge of the National Elevator Company's business at Namaka and has the doors wide open for business that is already coming in. He is a young man that easily knows his business for himself and will surely succeed.

The Namaka Clothing Company's new store is almost complete, and Manager Jackson expects to start moving in today—Thursday. He is thinking much to the store, and will be ready to meet the demands of the most exacting.

The Namaka News will shortly appear as a four-page sheet, and will come to the hands of every week.

NAMAKA FARMER HAS BIG YIELD

Joseph Storm Got 29,000 Bushels of 260 Acres.

Joseph Storm, who has been farming a couple of miles north of Namaka for the past two years, was in town the other day and to a reporter stated he was very well pleased with his second crop of this country. He had just completed threshing and in all had 20,000 bushels of grain from 200 acres of land, or an average of 77 bushels to the acre. Mr. Storm had 15,000 bushels of wheat, 4000 bushels of flax and 4,000 bushels of oats. He has done a lot of breaking this year and will have 1,000 acres in crop next year.

GREAT CHANGES ARE PLANNED BY C. P. R.

A Montreal dispatch says that at the annual meeting of the C. P. R. held Thursday the report of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy was carried without dissent. The report was a long one, full of statistics, and was approved by a vote of 100 to 1.

The lease of the Oxford Mountain Railway in the Eastern Townships of Quebec, for $50 years, was approved. A new law was submitted and approved. Publishing, printing and station buildings of other premises of the company were also approved, except in proper reception.

Another lawyer was adopted authorizing Mr. James Keel to make use of telegraphs, to prepare a list of the great lines of the world, the agreement to the Railway Act. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, in reply to a vote of 100 to 1, was particularly gratifying to hear such expressions from Mr. Neville, who was more intimately connected with the C. P. R. business on the London Stock Exchange than any other man.

"It is true," he said, "that the growth and prosperity of the company during the last ten years has been marvellous. I think equally marvellous change will be effected at the end of another ten years."

In the report Sir Thomas Shaughnessy refers particularly to the last affairs of the company. In speaking of the irrigation undertaking he says: "I am sure the outcome is a source of great satisfaction."

The cash in hand from the sale of land and bonds amounts to $11,000,000, and the deferred payment $10,000,000.

At a meeting of the board subsequently held, Sir William C. Van Horne was re-elected chairman of the board. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy presided, and David McNeill vice president of the company.

The executive committee was appointed as follows: Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy, Sir William C. Van Horne, Richard B. Angus, R. B. Oker, M. P., and David McNeill.

W. PARK KAYE,

Publisher and Proprietor.

Gleichen, Alberta, October 14, 1905.

It is suggested that the Provincial Government take a hand in relieving the troubles of prairie sufferers. The suggestion should be put into effect at once, for now is the time that relief is needed. By the unfortunate farmers and ranchers. Assistance coming from the government will do much good to Alberta, as well as to the sufferers, as it will show to the incoming settlers that Alberta appreciates good settlers and is willing to aid them in time of distress.

If the government aids settlers burned out by prairie fires, the ranchers may well ask why not keep the ranchers in similar circumstances? and not without good reason. Every year ranchers in this province are burned out, and if the cost to them could be figured out it would reach into the millions. As a rule the rancher takes the greatest precautions to guard against such fires, and it is seldom a rancher is guilty of starting a fire away from him. Prairie fires are most frequently started by the carelessness of some one who has no interests to the west of the rancher. In such cases the rancher must stand the loss or enter into the courts at his own expense, with the best chance of further loss for the origin of prairie fires are generally very difficult to establish.

John D. Rockefeller is not only a great financier but he is also a Sunday school teacher, and occasionally he gives his class boys the advantage of his worldly experience and some very valuable advice. He is reported as follows in one of his recent lessons at Cleveland:

"Work just as hard when the loss is away as when he is watching you," is his motto for building a job.

First, Mr. Rockefeller told how to obtain a position, this is to establish a reputation for honesty, industry and sobriety. Mr. Rockefeller philosophized from his own experience in life. Incidentally he regarded that last Sunday was the 5th anniversary of the date when he obtained his first job. He was footsore and weary when at last he found a chance to go to work. Then he was told to call again.

"I was to call after luncheon," said Mr. Rockefeller, and he was waited upon by my prospective employer, said Mr. Rockefeller, and "I told all about me and I got the job. Remember, boys, when you look for a job employers will inquire about you, and it is good thing to have a reputation for honesty. Especially do they inquire of your pastor and teacher. A boy must not necessarily be smart to hold a position, but he must be honest, sober and diligent."

The Careful Farmer Will Get Busy Now.

From now until planting time next spring every farmer who hopes to make the largest crops with the least labor and cost and without injury to his land, should lose no opportunity to do fall and winter plowing whenever the conditions of the soil are favorable, and it is practical to have the work done.

There are two great advantages in plowing land in the fall, which is intended to be planted in the spring—one, the saving of time; the other that the land is in so much better condition for holding moisture and producing a crop. Fall plowing with wet land is often quite a saving, as soil plowed under in the fall and subjected to the action of the weather during winter is much more readily put into a good condition for the seed than if left until spring. But in the Bow Valley it is the general opinion that soil plowing should be done not later in the year than the end of June. The same may, in a considerable extent, be said of soft, clay soil. With a heavy soil, however, if one is not so much to gain, in fact, some good farmers consider it rather detrimental than otherwise to plow heavy sandy soil in the fall or winter.

In most cases land that has been well plowed in the fall will not require to be plowed in the spring further than it be given a thorough diking and then going over with a smoothing harrow to level and pulverize. Most spring crops, especially oats, it is quite an advantage that the soil be well prepared and thoroughly pulverized.

Land deeply plowed in the fall and given good surface drainage will dry out much sooner in the spring, hold moisture better and be in better condition to work than land that has not been plowed. So in nearly all cases, by plowing well in the fall, seedling or planting can be done earlier than would otherwise be possible, and the crop be in much better condition. Another advantage in fall plowing of land intended for spring crops is that it affords a better opportunity of applying manure during the winter.

There is not so much benefit in fall plowing of land that has been in cultivation for some time, and is properly manured, is devoid of manure, and is liable to pack after heavy rains. Such land plowed in the fall should be repacked in the spring, and therefore, all or most of the benefits of fall plowing would be lost.

One of the principal objections urged to fall plowing is the injury the land may be subjected to from washing. In some cases this is so great that it will not be advisable to plow in the fall, but in others care in plowing and in running out the furrows, would have to avoid this. In most cases where fall plowing is done care should be taken to save all the manure possible, and plow at least a portion of it under.

Do not waste your time on social questions. What is the matter with the poor or poverty; what is the matter with the rich is uselessness. Be good enough to remember that your morals are only your habits; and do not call other people immoral because they have other habits.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Banff Hard Coal for sale at the Crown Lumber Company's Yard.

Boss—To Mr. and Mrs. Prestwich, at their ranch, Gleichen, on October 1st, a son.

Mrs. Urch returned from attending the Seattle fair on Saturday and reports having had "just a lovely time."

Thanksgiving Day is set for Oct. 25, and the people of this district have a whole lot to be thankful for this year.

Geo. H. Walsh, the real estate man, got back from the Seattle fair Sunday, but has been too busy to give an account of the wonderful things he saw.

J. J. O'Malley, the Calgary eye specialist, will be at A. R. Yates' drug store next Monday and Tuesday, October 18th and 19th.

Messrs. Payne, Brosseau and L. Desjardine spent from Friday until Tuesday hunting antelope northwest of the Cravling Valley and returned with five, which is the best hunt heard of in the time occupied.

Miss Wilson arrived from Medicine Hat on Monday to take a position in the Gleichen public school. The continued increase of the attendance of children at the school made it necessary to open the third room in the new school.

Our readers can judge of the popularity of Robin Hood from when we state that Messrs. Rennie & Ramsay, who are exclusive agents for Gleichen, have ordered another car of this flour for November shipment. This is a proof of its goodness as they received a complete car the last of September. Who says Robin Hood is not popular?

Geo. Wakefield, the contractor, made a record for himself in quick building last week. In thirteen working hours he erected a building 21x30 feet, completed from the foundation to the roof, for the Southern Alberta Land Co., which is now used by the company as an office and warehouse. The building is complete, with windows, doors, etc., and is a record for any builder in a town many times the size of Gleichen, which fact is thoroughly appreciated by the company.

J. Durkee, foreman at T. P. McHugh's ranch, came to town last week suffering from blood poison in the leg. Dr. Rose attended him and found it necessary to make a six-inch cut in his leg clear to the bone. Mr. Durkee underwent this painful operation without the aid of anesthetics, which speaks well for the characteristic of the man, and is certainly a credit to the doctor. A reporter met Mr. Durkee a half hour after the operation walking with the aid of crutches, and, on enquiring as to how he felt, elicited the reply: "Oh, I think I am now much better, thank you."

Manager T. P. Fisher, of the Gleichen Opera House Company, has secured a course of five entertainments to be put on at intervals in the Foresters' Hall this season and is arranging for others. The first of the series will be staged on Tuesday, October 26th, by the Cassels-Percival Entertainers, which promises to be one of the best ever witnessed in Gleichen. Each member of the company is known to be entertainers of high class, and as the five entertainments have been arranged under the management of C. P. Walker, of Winnipeg, it will be to that gentleman's advantage to see that each show is the best he can produce in order to continue his series.

Dr. C. A. Sheets and Mrs. Sheets arrived in town last Thursday and spent several days visiting their friends. They are on their way from Washington, D. C., to San Jose, Cal., and just stopped off to see their former friends and acquaintances and to have a look at their farm northeast of town. Since they left here they have visited nearly all the leading eastern American and Canadian cities. They expressed themselves as somewhat surprised and much pleased with the growth of the town and the development of the country in so short a time, and though formerly a rancher here it would be difficult to find a more enthusiastic farmer in these parts than the doctor is now. He came here several years ago for the benefit of his health, and, having made a complete recovery, is returning to California to resume his profession, in which he is widely known as an expert of the eye and ear.

About Incorporation

To Editor Gleichen Call.

I shall consider it a favor if you could grant me the space for a few remarks in connection with an item in regard to the incorporation of the Village of Gleichen, as a town, which appeared in your last issue and emanated, I am given to understand, from Mr. Emil Griesbach.

While I am sure there was no intention so to do, to those not acquainted with the necessary procedure the item might convey the impression that there had been negligence, either on the part of myself or of the Council for the village, who were good enough to leave the matter in my hands for completion and I trust you will allow me, for the information of the public, to quote the following details:

The incorporation act necessitates the passing of a resolution by the ratepayers, the publication of notice of the intention to apply for incorporation in four consecutive issues of the local newspaper, and in two consecutive issues of the Alberta Gazette and the act provides for a term of at least one month to elapse after the publication of the last notice, before application is made to the Lieutenant Governor in Council to authorize the incorporation and appoint the officials for election. So it is evident that at least two months must elapse before any direct communication with the Government is authorized. Beyond the time which is actually consumed in securing applicants and preparing the necessary forms, I am not aware that there has been any delay whatever, and the petition for incorporation will be presented to the Lieutenant Governor in Council as soon as the signature of the Chairman of the Council can be secured to the petition.

GEORGE L. LAFFERTY.

Miss Burne, who has charge of the millinery department for the firm. The members of the Gleichen Lope Hunters Society returned home Saturday night from a nine days' hunt. It was not all "loping" this time, as they reported shooting five antelope. The members who went this year were Messrs. A. R. Yates, T. H. Beach, W. H. James and C. J. Bray. They report having an excellent time, the weather being good and game plentiful. They have not yet got all the finishing touches on their stories but may have by next week.
